

Jane Mary Wolfe, MSW, ACSW, LICSW, DCSW, Vice President, Clinical Operations, HMC Companies

Jane Wolfe is a Licensed Independent Clinical Social Worker in the State of Wisconsin. She received her Master's Degree in Social Work from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee in 1985. From 1970 to 1985 Jane worked in the field of nursing in Milwaukee.

Jane also holds a Bachelor of Art in Clinical Psychology and she is a member of the Academy of Certified Social Workers and a Diplomat in Clinical Social Work. In addition, Jane has post-graduate studies in incest, sexual abuse, family systems, brief therapy, eating disorders, contemporary issues in mental health and addiction, and critical incident debriefing. Other professional affiliations include the National Association of Social Workers; Employee Assistance Professionals; New York Academy of Science; Chairman, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, Social Work Board (1993); and member, Psy Chi, National Honor Society in Psychology.

Jane comes from a diverse professional background. She spent thirteen years working on medical units and in surgery at Good Samaritan Medical Center in Milwaukee. During that time she gained experience working with adolescents and their families in crisis. During her time at St. Aemilian, Inc., in Milwaukee she was a child and family therapist working with the juvenile court system. At Horizon Health Management she was program director of an inpatient mental health unit. Jane's other experience includes: St. Aemilian's Residential Treatment Center Foster Home and training at the Hazelden Foundation for chemical dependency.

From 1989-2005, Jane was Senior Vice President of Health Management Center. In that capacity she provided clinical supervision, office management, marketing and client relations in the Midwest and eastern regions. She has been a presenter at the Western Conference of Operating Engineers in Portland and Dallas, the International Teamsters Women's Conference in Las Vegas, and the International Foundation Meeting in Vancouver. Jane is a guest lecturer at the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee to Graduate classes in Clinical Social Work.

Currently Jane serves as Vice President of Clinical Operations for HMC Companies. In this role Jane is responsible for coordination of Clinical programs, protocols and program evaluations for clinical content. Marketing, account management and client relations are also included in her job description. Additionally, she works as a consultant to all Account Managers for HMC/EBS and Informed RX.